NOMINATION

For County Prosecut'r

Sought Vigorously by All Members

Of Young Lawyers' Republican Club.

An Awful Scramble and an Exciting Race.

Skirmish For Nomination Like Boys After Pennies.

Eyes sparkling with excitement, nerves responsive to every sensation, muscles twitching, and jaws firmly set, every member of that intensely interesting concrete, known as the Young Lawyers' Republican club, is ready for the scramble and race.

"Here it comes!" they yell in chorus, and now they're all piled together, wriggling, squirming, kicking and fighting, as in a pandemonium.

"Czar" Anderson, with a magnanimity he does not often exhibit, and also to gratify his desire for some rare sport on the side, has tossed the nomination for County Prosecuting Attorney into the midst of the Young Lawyers' Republican club, for the purpose of causing a lively and exciting scam-ble, after the same fashion as that observed by little boys scrambling for pennies. Every member of the club is a candidate, and each has already announced himself informally and prepared his platform, even though the election does not take place until the fall of 1901.

Now the scramble is at its fiercest stage! Shrieks and yells are so many and loud that the fire department and the automobile patrol are called out.

Francis Selberling, from the bottom of the pile, hisses through his teeth, in tones that brook no contradiction:
"Get off! I'm smothered. Let's start over again."

"Good! Good! Smother him till he looks like macaroni, and put him out of the race quick!" yelled "Billy" Pardee, the tall acrobat of the Wabash, whose feet protruded at one end of the pile, and his head at the other.

"Ouch! Get off my sore toe," shrieked Scott D. Kenfield, as he led out with his right duke for the countenance of Lionel S. Pardee, and again plunged into the scramble.

"Stop him! Stop him, quick! Is the cry heard now. Henry M. Hagelbarger grasps the nomination—and he has slipped through the guard line like an eel.

All the members of the club save chase—and they are still going. They all hope to overtake Mr. Hagelbarger and win.

"Throw salt on his coat tail," cries Nation O. Mather. "That'll stop him." "Just look at that long-legged athlete run," wistfully remarked C. F.
Beery. "Well," he continues indif-ferently, "I didn't want it, any way, but I don't know why I went into the scramble and got my left ear jerked nearly off."

Among the candidates are the following named members of the club:
H. M. Hagelbarger, A. J. Rowley, W.
R. Talbot, Scott D. Kenfield, Nation
O. Mather, Francis Selberling, C. F.
Beery, H. L. Snyder, W. A. Martu, Edson C. Webster, Lionel S. Pardee, W. E. Pardee. The other members of the club will do a little more secret work, such as building up organizations, before they announce their candidacy.

Mr. A. J. Rowley is standing back to size up the situation. He is out of politics now.

Meanwhile, the fun goes on, and grows merrier. With bees in the bonnet of every member of the club, it's no wonder that there's a buzzing sound heard continually at the club room.
"Czar" Anderson just pounds a little on the wall of the club room, occasionally, with one of his penetrating, booming smiles bestowed with partiality on some particular member, and the buzzing goes on with renewed vigor. Everybody is "stirred" up when the "Czar" bestows smiles on any particular candidate.

A Democrat reporter has interviewed nearly every member of the club, but, inasmuch as 40 interviews published at one time would occupy too much space, it has been deemed advisable to mix them all together, "boil them down," and print the extract, which is in accordance with the tenor of these words:

CANDIDATES' INTERVIEW.

"MY OWN SELF AGAIN."

Mrs. Gates Writes to Mrs. Pinkham, Follows Her Advice and is Made Well.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For nearly two and one-half years I have been in feeble health. After my little child came it seemed I could not get my strength again. I have chills and the severest pains in my limbs and top of head and am almost insensible at times. I also have a pain just to the right of my breast bone. It is so severe at times that I cannot lie on my right side. Please write me what you think of my case."
—MRS. CLARA GATES,
Johns P. O., Miss.,
April 25, 1898.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—
I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as advised and now send you a letter for publication. For several years I was in such wretched health that life was almost a burden.
I could hardly walk across the floor, was so feeble. Several of our best physicians attended me, but failed to help. I concluded to write to you for advice. In a few days I received such a kind, motherly letter. I followed your instructions and am my 'old self' again. Was greatly benefited before I had used one bottle. May God bless you for what you are doing for suffering women."—MRS. CLARA GATES, Johns P. O., Miss., Oct. 6, 1899.

ed wishes of my many friends, I have decided to become a candidate for the office of Prosecuting Attorney, in and for the County of Summit, State of Ohio, ss., be the same more or less. I will win. Defeat and myself have always been strangers.
"If the voters refuse to elect me, I will at once procure a writ of manda-mus compelling them to do so, even if it does cause them to say afterward:
'We've been fooled to a man-damus.'" "As I hinted before—I will win, providing I'm not thrown out on a 'technicality.'"

"Will I win? Well, I should say 'Yes'—I've always been friendly to Judge Anderson, and he has promised to throw into my hands the awarding of a number of city positions, and I figure that this will attract the voters to me with the same alacrity a sick cat exhibits in jumping after a warm pancake.

"Then, also, with respect to the office, to wit: A hustler is needed. I am that same article. I take a great deal more than ordinary pleasure in stating in a desultory manner that all of my worthy opponents are overgrown pelicans. They are each and every one afflicted with rheumatism, and are suffering from an abnormal enlargement of the cranium. They couldn't run after bad men; nor are they orators like myself.

"If elected, I will at once institute proceedings to capture and convict the murderer of the late lamented C. Rabbin. I am also encamped on the trail of the man who struck 'Billy' Pardee, and will speedily bring him within reach of the strong arm of the law.
"Aside from the above mentioned good reasons why I should receive the nomination, I may during my spare moments, go in search of the Holy Grail, and ultimately, I may do things that will win fame for myself and my country.

"Voters, do your duty.
"P. S.—I concur in the policy of the Administration."

And this is the collective opinion of the 40 or more candidates of the Young Lawyers' Republican club.

In the Background.

Campaign Will be on Other Issues.

Bryan Endorsed by Democratic Clubs.

Dewey is All Right as a Hero.

Dr. Reemelin Elected President of the Association.

(Special Correspondence.)

Columbus, April 12.—The first annual convention of the State Association of Democratic Clubs was called to order at the Great Southern hotel yesterday afternoon by President A. C. Bachtel, of Akron. The attendance was very good, and considering the fact that the Association was organized less than nine months ago, it was an encouraging sign, and augurs well for Democratic success this fall. Mr. Bachtel as president, opened the convention by introducing Dewitt C. Jones, who delivered the address of welcome.

President A. C. Bachtel of Akron responded.

The old officers of the association are as follows: President, A. C. Bachtel, Akron; first vice president, Dr. B. H.
Reemelin, Cincinnati; second vice president, W. W. Durbin, secretary, J. N.
Koerner, Columbus; treasurer, Charles Stager, Toledo; executive committee, L. W. Brown, Wausau; A. T. Knorr, Greenville; J. H. Greke, Wapakoneta; W. E. Veyandt, Wooster; L. G. Long, Dayton.

The banquet of the clubs, held at the Great Southern last night, was well attended. The speeches were lively.

One of the surprises of the evening was the speech of Hon. Allan W. Thurman, the noted bi-metalist, who said:

"The Democratic party must not make the mistake of attempting to force the free coinage of silver as the leading issue in 1900.

"Do not understand that I am not in favor of the adoption of the Chicago platform; for as a matter of principle every line of it should be reaffirmed; but I do not believe that we should attempt to make the free coinage of silver a controlling issue. I, for one, do not believe that we can make the free coinage of silver a paramount issue in the coming campaign. Instead of having any potency it would be a millstone about our necks.

"The issue today is a republic or an empire. The Republican party will endeavor to force the old issue upon us. They will accuse us of leaving our idols; but I do not care what they charge so long as we face the truth and stand for it in all circumstances."

The speaker had preceded these statements by a resume of the causes leading up to the present prosperous industrial conditions, in which the argument was made that they were due altogether to the increased gold sup-

If you are in doubt whether you have Kidney or Bladder disease, just put some of your urine in a glass tumbler and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment, or a milky cloudy appearance, if it is repy or stringy, pale or discolored, your Kidneys or Bladder are sick.

Other serious symptoms are pain in the back, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, a burning acrid pain in passing urine or when your urine status lumen.

The one sure cure for diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Bladder and Blood, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Chronic Constipation and the sicknesses peculiar to women is Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. It has cured in many cases where all else failed and is sold at all drug stores for $1.00 ply and necessarily larger circulation.

"For the next ten years," said Mr.
Thurman, "it will be futile in all probability to attempt to force the free coinage of silver as a leading issue.
For that period at least there are unforeseen and unprecedented conditions why the money supply promises to be adequate to the country's needs."

In supporting this he drew estimates upon the probable gold output from the new Alaskan and South African fields.
He referred to the policies inaugurated by the administration toward the Philippines and Porto Rico, as directly in controversy with the provisions of the Constitution, holding that Congress, a creature of the Constitution, was assuming the position of making the Constitution a creature of its whims.

In conclusion, he declared this and the matter of trusts to be the real issues upon which the campaign of 1900 was to be waged.

"There are certain influences at work," he said in conclusion, "to defeat William Jennings Bryan for the Presidential nomination at Kansas City."

This was solely because the same influences could not use Bryan.

"When you name your delegates to that convention," he said dramatically, "remember the injunction of Washington at Trenton, 'Put none but Americans on guard tonight.'"

General A. J. Warner, of Marietta; Judge Allen W. Snalley of Upper Sandusky; and ex-Mayor James A. Rice of Canton, followed much in the same sentiment. Rice said that Dewey was a popular hero on the sea, but he lacked the elements of statesmanship, and if he made an attempt to secure the endorsement of the Kansas City convention, he would be buried utterly. With reference to the silver question, Gen.
Warner said: "The silver question will not press this year; will not assume the paramount importance it attained in 1896; the conditions are altogether different, the outlook prohibitive."

The resolutions adopted today condemned trusts; condemn the financial legislation of Congress recognizing the gold standard as menacing both in principle and action; decline against "imperialism," and while not opposing expansion, as applied in the Philippines, demand a speedy termination of the war; demand free trade for Porto Rico; express sympathy for the Boers; favor the completion and maintenance under American control the Nicaragua canal; oppose entangling alliances with foreign nations, either openly or in secret; protest against any increase of the standing army, and demand its return to the old standard; and finally, endorse the Chicago platform and Bryan for the presidential nomination.

Dr. R. H. Reemelin of Cincinnati was elected president of the club today. Mr. Bachtel not being a candidate for re-election. Next Year's convention will be held at Cincinnati.
